

BENEDICTINE

1962

pursuit of excellence . . .

BENEDICTINE HIGH SCHOOL EMPHASIZES HIGH INDIVIDUAL PERFORMANCE. IT AFFORDS STUDENTS THE DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY TO REALIZE THEIR FULL POTENTIALITIES. ALTHOUGH INSISTING UPON QUALITY AND DISTINCTION, BENEDICTINE SAFEGUARDS THE FUNDAMENTAL VIEW THAT IN THE FINAL MATTERS OF HUMAN EXISTENCE EACH STUDENT IS EQUALLY WORTHY OF THE SCHOOL'S CARE AND CONCERN.

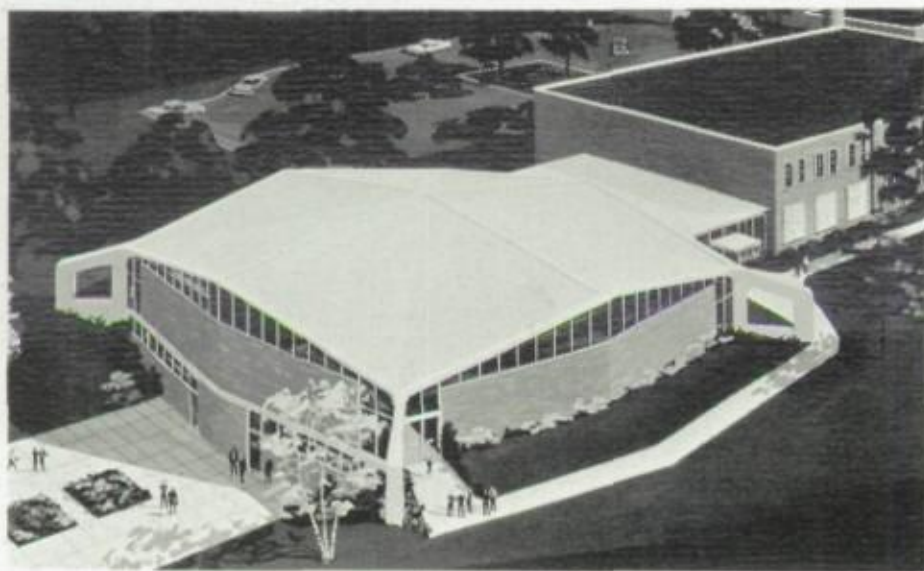

RECOGNIZING differences in endowment and motivation, Benedictine accepts differences in achievement. By allowing free play to these differences, the school preserves the freedom to excel which counts much in terms of individual aspirations, and has produced scholarly graduates.

Benedictine 1962

BENEDICTINE HIGH SCHOOL

2900 EAST BLVD. — CLEVELAND, OHIO

Benedictine education helps students to see themselves as participants in an exciting era in history and to have a sense of purpose in relation to it.

It follows that in enthusiastically teaching and cultivating the democratic way of life, Benedictine is a most vigorous proponent of excellence.

What is excellence?

Requiring goals and priorities among them, excellence, a product of ability, motivation and character, is achieved when students think deeply about important things. Excellence demands use of time, good teaching, solid curriculum, student grouping, advancement on maturity and achievement plus more and better use of books and technology.

Varsity football

Hard-hitting Bengal junior fullback Joe Ditchman (88) and Boruszkowski shared team scoring honors with 28 points apiece. Both tallied four touchdowns and four extra points during the season.

Tom Kucera (60), five-foot 10-inch, 160-pound senior right half for Benedictine, returns an East kickoff 22 yards.

Copping its last five games of the season, Benedictine's 1961 varsity football team registered a five-win, four-loss overall record. After absorbing four consecutive setbacks, the Bengals clawed Cathedral Latin (East Senate co-champion), 8-0; John Adams, 18-6; Saint Edward (independent), 12-6; Glenville, 30-6, and East Tech, 28-6.

The losses were administered by West Senate and city champion Holy Name (independent), 40-0; state champion Massillon (independent), 20-6; East, 22-14, and Collinwood (East Senate co-champion), 6-0.

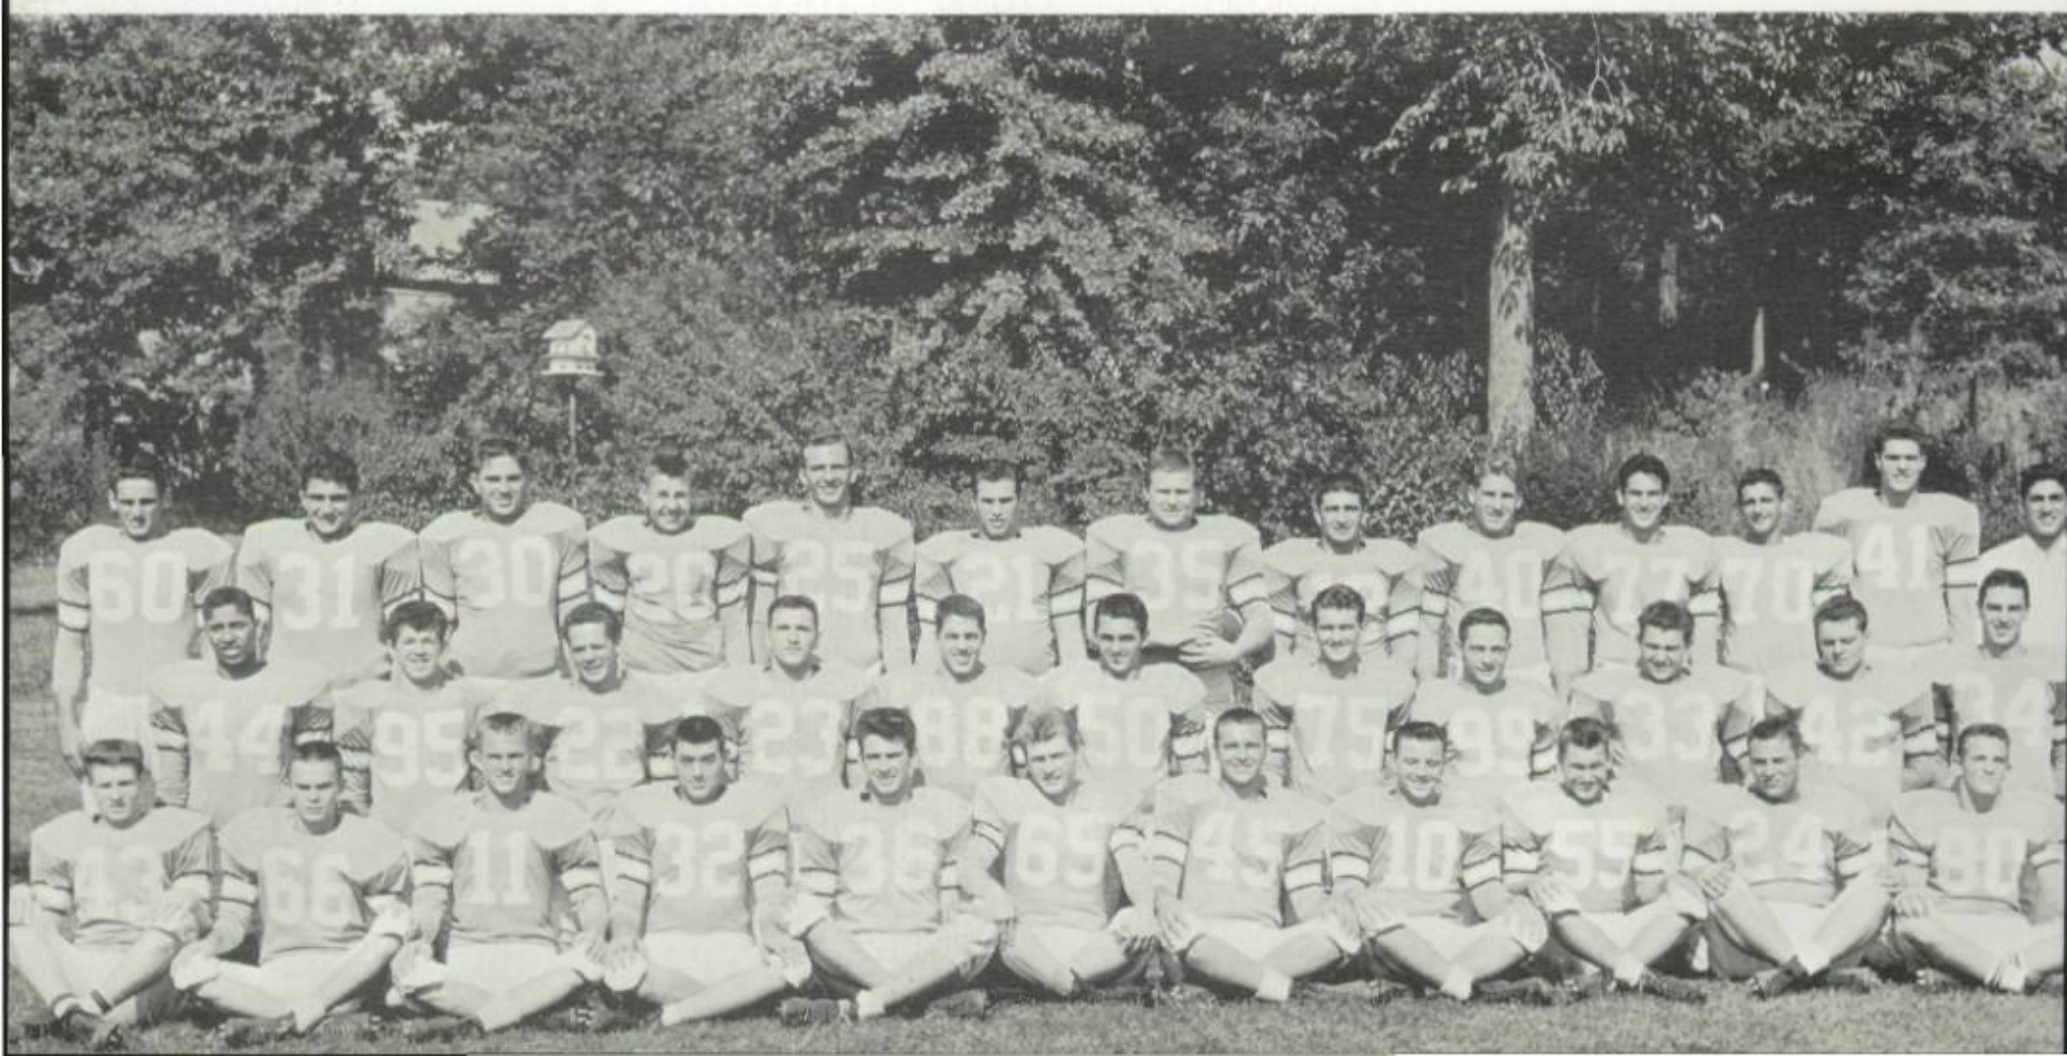

By posting four victories and two defeats in the East Senate, the Tigers share runnerup honors in the league with East, which also notched a similar mark.

During the 1961 campaign, junior Paul Beskid (55), Bengals' number two quarterback, showed enough form to step into the top 1962 signal-calling role.

Chuck Anderson (99), junior Tiger left half, tries unsuccessfully to squirt into open country from two East Bombers.

On the run, Benedictine's junior right half Sam Collura (77) collects a Bengal pass and reels off a long gain.

With the 1961-62 scholastic year, the title "Benedictine faculty manager of athletics" was abandoned. For the first time since the school's founding in 1927, the Bengal athletic department was placed under the supervision of a layman.

The decision to have athletic director Joe Rufus absorb the work of the faculty manager of athletics was made in June, following the resignation of Father Damian, O.S.B. Father Damian became faculty manager of athletics in June 1959.

Mr. Rufus came to Benedictine as an assistant coach in 1945. During nine seasons as the Bengals' head football mentor, he guided the Tigers through 83 games, winning 64, losing 14 and tying five. Of the 54 East Senate contests, Benedictine won 46 tilts, lost five, tied three and compiled a string of 31 undefeated

East Senate encounters.

The Bengals under Coach Rufus won the city grid crown in '48, '52; the city co-championship in '50; the East Senate diadem in '48, '50, '52, '53, and the East Senate co-championship in '45, '51.

With Coach Rufus handling all three sports in 1948, the Tigers captured the city championship in football, basketball and baseball. The East Senate diamond title was won again in '51.

Named athletic director December 6, 1954, the first layman to hold the post at Benedictine relieved Father Augustine, O.S.B. Father Augustine became faculty manager of athletics, serving in that position until June 1959.

Father Damian's resigning came as a result of his volunteering to ease the overburdened faculty by accepting additional teaching hours.

Junior varsity . . . East Senate champion

By defeating its seven opponents, the 1961 Benedictine junior varsity football squad registered the Bengals' first unbeaten, untied jay vee season since 1958.

The reserves' record likewise snatched the East Senate junior varsity championship for the second straight year. Jolted in succession were Thomas Edison, 30-6; East Tech, 50-0; Collinwood, 42-6; Glenville, 22-6; John Adams, 8-0; East, 14-6, and Cathedral Latin, 20-6.

Against five opponents the 1961 Benedictine freshman football squad compiled a season record of three wins and two losses. The Baby Bengals registered victories over West, 28-6; Patrick Henry, 24-0, and Akron Saint Vincent, (forfeit) 2-0. Officials gave the forfeiture triumph to the Tigers because Saint Vincent reported "more than an hour late."

Benedictine's setbacks came at the hands of Holy Name, 8-0, and Cathedral Latin, 14-8. This gives Bengal coach Ed Yemec a two-season Bengal grid record of eight triumphs, two defeats and one deadlock.

Varsity basketball

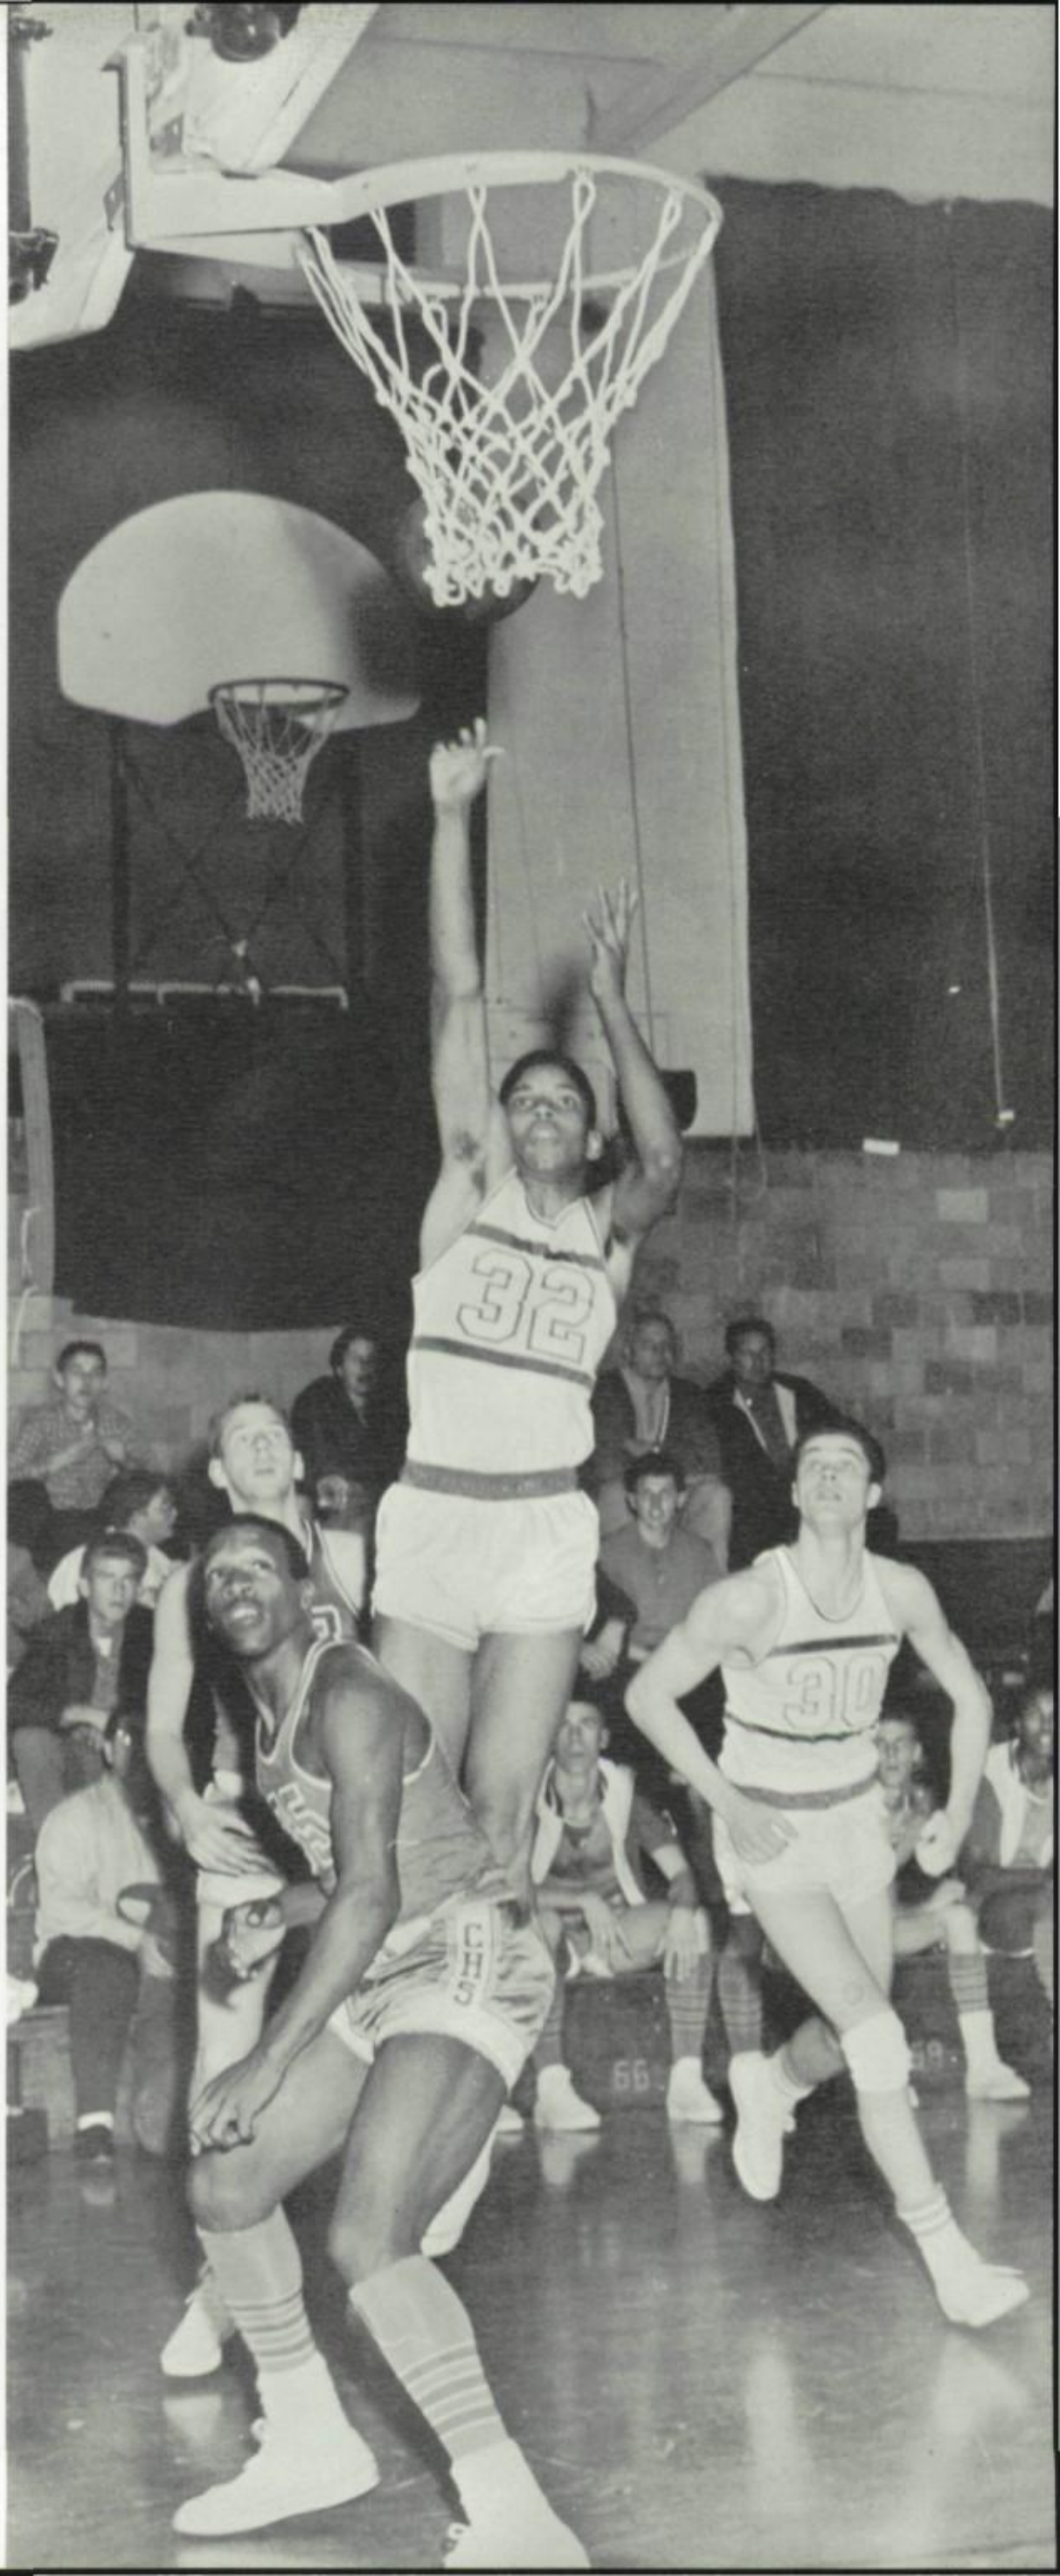

Scoring against Collinwood is Benedictine's 6-3 right forward Dan Rinicella (30).

During the 1961-62 season, Benedictine's varsity basketball squad registered an overall record of seven victories and 14 defeats. Of the 21 contests played, 14 were East Senate tilts, four were non-league games and three were state tournament encounters.

In loop competition the Bengals played a round-robin schedule, posting a 2-12 circuit mark. Season point-total for the Tigers was 1,081 on 432 field goals and 217 free throws, to the opponents' 1,286 markers on 508 fielders and 270 charity tosses.

Bengal six-foot, three-inch center John Upthegrove (32) launches one of his 75 successful field goals, backed up by teammate Dan Rinicella.

Benedictine's 12-man varsity basketball team roster includes the two Beskid brothers, junior (above, 22) Paul, 5-8 right guard, and sophomore Ed, a 5-10 left guard.

A key man in Benedictine's attack is junior 5-11 left forward Jeff Chorba, the Bengals' top season scorer with 230 points on 94 field goals and 42 free throws.

Onward and upward goes Benedictine's 5-8 right guard Norm Kozak in scoring a goal.

Sailing skyward in registering a two-pointer is Bengal left guard captain Larry Wojciechowski. Teammate is Upthegrove (32).

In its pursuit of educational excellence, Benedictine constantly holds up before the minds of students the permanent ideals and goals of Catholic Christianity. Mindful that creation contains religious lessons, Benedictine education stresses the idea that nature contains a divine truth and a religious purpose: it relates the human being through his own understanding to the God Who is his Creator and Savior.

self-sacrifice, tolerance, loyalty and dedication

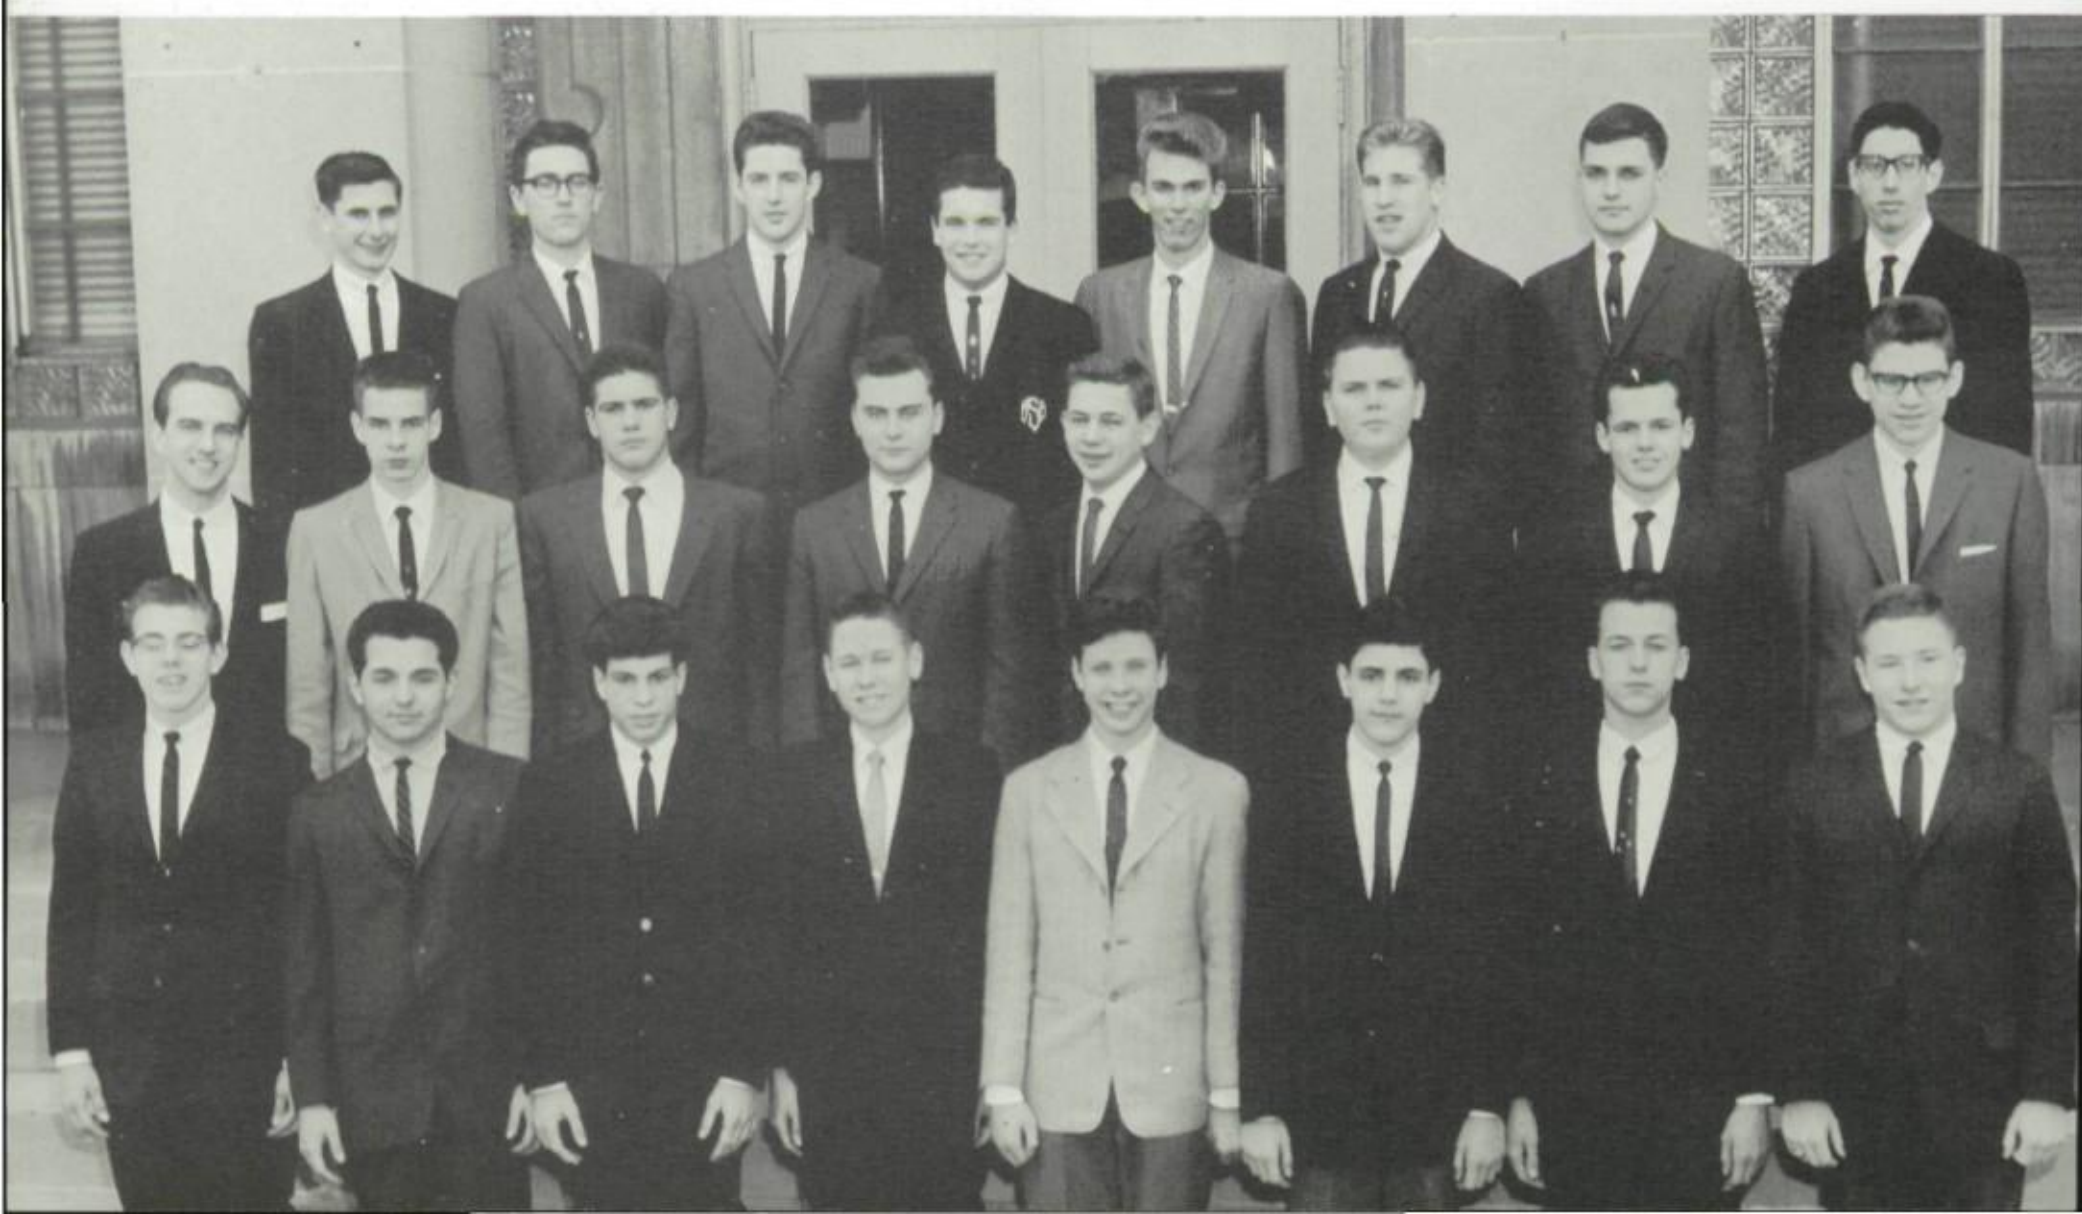

As part of the learning process and related effectively to the school's curriculum, the student council at Benedictine is authorized to manage under the direction of its moderator, Father Edward, O.S.B., that area of student curricular and co-curricular activities delegated by the school principal, Father Robert, O.S.B., to the official representatives of the student body.

In providing students a practical education in democratic self-government, the student council is the application of a democratic ideal to education, with training in citizenship as its aim. Since the council is a living and also a preparation for living, it has a powerful formative effect in the training of leaders.

Official spokesman for the Benedictine student body is Jeffery Becker, student council president.

In striving to produce an effective Benedictine legislative body, student council members, under the leadership of their president, Jeffery Becker, formulated a six-point program which would:

Give students a share in the management of the school and foster, promote and develop the democratic-way-of-life; assist the principal and faculty; sponsor certain projects and activities and provide practical ways of getting specific jobs done.

Help students attain their maximum educational growth and development through training and experience in the skills and techniques of citizenship; improve student attitudes, conduct and discipline, and offer assistance toward solution of problems which concern the student body.

National honor society

Ten seniors and 11 juniors were inducted into Benedictine's chapter of the National Honor Society February 6 in the school auditorium. Colonel Ralph M. McMahon, commanding officer of the United States army ordnance district at Cleveland, was the main speaker.

Qualifications for membership exact that seniors and juniors possess at least a scholastic average of 90 per cent; achieved recognition on the preceding academic honor roll; are active members in a cocurricular activity, and gained approval of the faculty.

Father Luke, O.S.B., is moderator.

These 10 senior national honor society members will wear the white satin shoulder pendant with their graduation gowns at Benedictine's commencement exercises and also during the honors and awards convocation (left to right): Stephen Sudik, Warren Balazs, Lawrence Kandrach, Benedict Grigaliunas, Robert Shearer, John Donich and Laszlo Sogor. Absent: Peter Karaba, John Kowalski and Robert Duray.

The national honor society members were honored with a banquet the evening of their induction. February 6, at Settler's Restaurant.

Colonel Ralph M. McMahon explained "the significance of communism" to the national honor society members on induction day.

If these 11 junior national honor society members maintain at least a 90 per cent scholastic average through January 1963, they will be garbed with the white shoulder pendant at Benedictine's June commencement exercises (standing, left to right): Kenneth Skrabec, Gary Toth, Michael Lantos, John Davenport, George Kochik, Joseph Jurist, (sitting) Gregory Mack, Jerome Gries, James Smolik, Thomas Kuczmariski and William Dulik.

Preparatory seminarians Donald Wascovich (left) and Richard Heckman have set their goals high and are aware that much is required of them.

Founded in September 1952, Saint Andrew abbey preparatory seminary is affiliated with Benedictine. The campus-located preparatory seminary was established for high school students who have the necessary signs of a vocation to the priesthood or brotherhood.

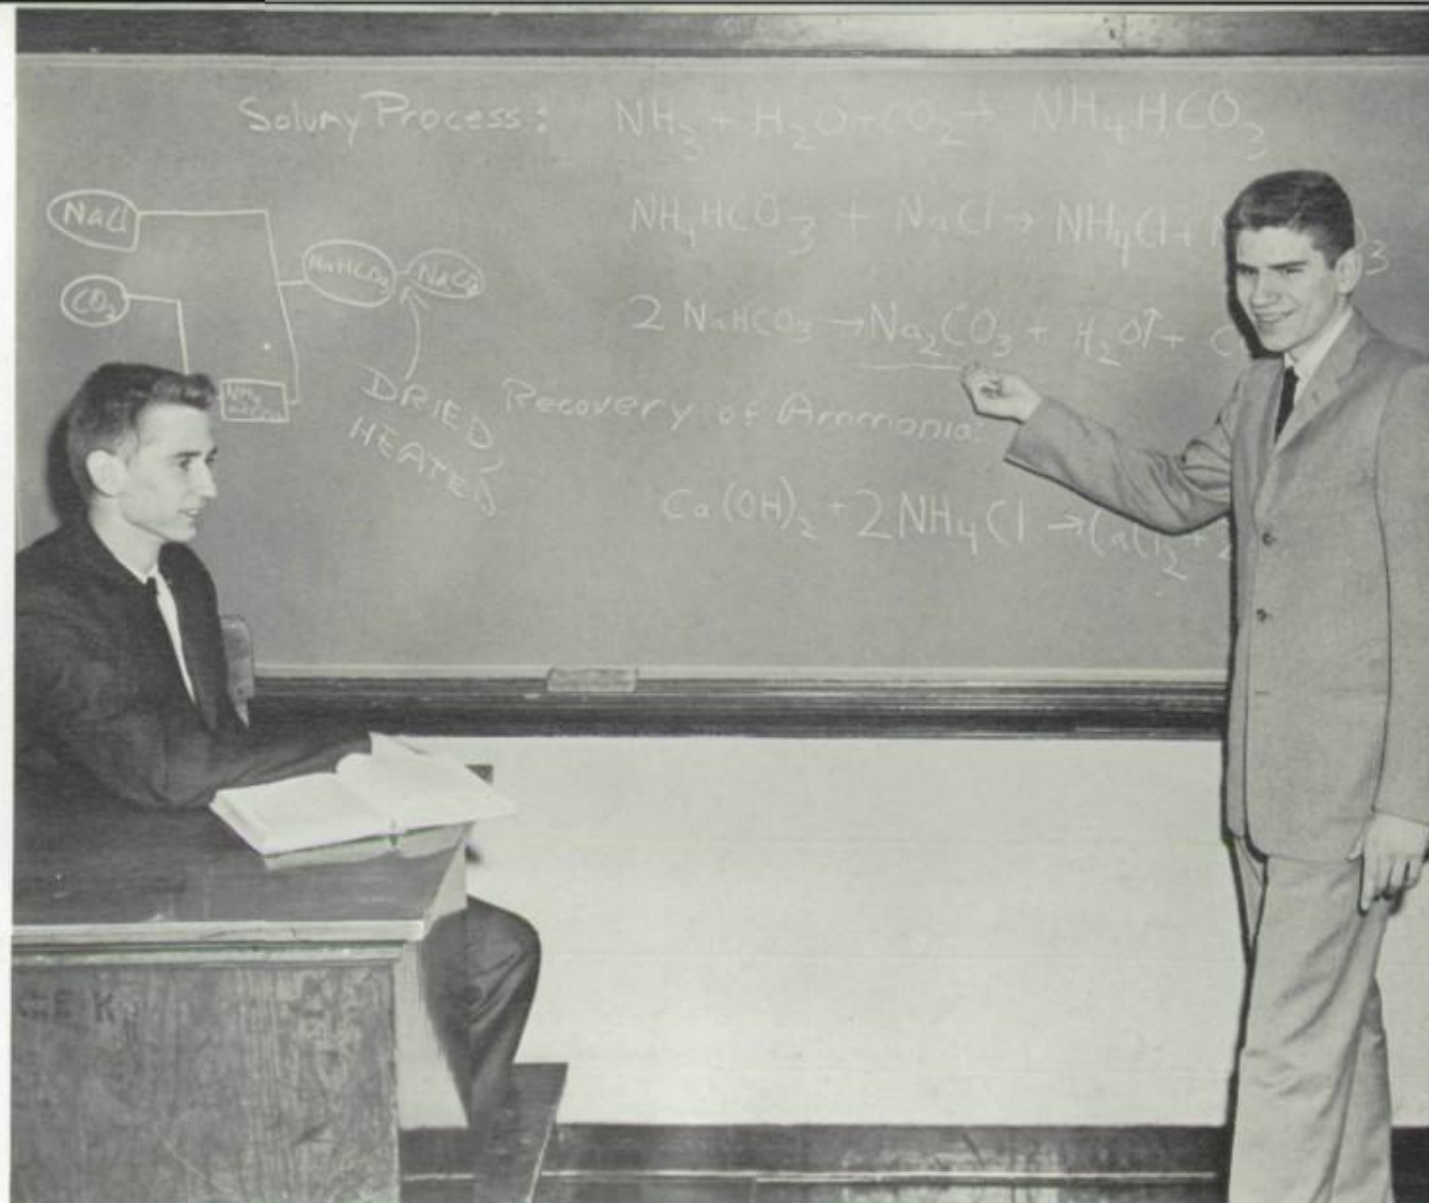

Through its scholastic and spiritual program, the seminary, under director Father Clement, O.S.B., seeks to build and develop the necessary intellectual, moral and spiritual virtues for the priesthood and brotherhood.

The seminarian's regimented day is divided between prayer, study and recreation. He attends classes at Benedictine and resides at the seminary which occupies the second, third and fourth floors of the old abbey building.

Juniors Thomas Kuczmariski (left) and Gregory Mack value the appreciation, interest and thought evoked during the twice-monthly meetings of Benedictine's chapter of the future scientists of America.

Future scientists of America

At Benedictine there is the Albertus Magnus society, the school's chapter of the future scientists of America. Its purpose is to identify, nurture and direct science-prone youth into the various fields of science. Students maintaining at least a B scholastic average qualify for membership.

The twice-monthly meetings of the Albertus Magnus society provide concrete situations through which the scientific method is more readily seen as a procedure in the search for truth, having the elements of open-mindedness, carefulness and accuracy.

A highlight of the scientists' 1961-62 calendar was the April 10 field trip to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Lewis Research Center.

Mathematics society

Benedictine's mathematics society continues to have an enthusiastic membership because in recent years mathematics has assumed a more important place in the world than ever before, due to current scientific advancements. Members sense these are challenging and exciting times to be engaged in the study of mathematics for the number of fields of learning in which mathematics is required is constantly on the increase.

Through monthly sessions, supervised by moderator Father William, O.S.B., the membership is seriously challenged with such topics as set theory, logic, axiom systems and finite geometries and topology.

Chess club

In the 11-team Greater Cleveland scholastic chess association, the Benedictine chess varsity squad competes against these member-schools: Berea, Chagrin Falls, Cleveland Heights, Euclid, Parma, Perry, Saint Joseph, Shaker Heights, Shaw and West Tech. Major part of the league's schedule is played during the latter part of the second semester.

Chess is a game for highly intelligent students. Each player has 16 pieces which are distinguished by their shapes into six kinds, namely, king, queen, rook, bishop, knight and pawn. Every one of the six kinds has its own peculiarity of movement.

The game requires the player to look ahead for as many moves as his intelligence permits, and to try to guess what his opponent will do and beat him to the punch.

New Dads' club member Karl Strmen (center), faculty member, checks identification card with his freshman son Peter and moderator Father Method, O.S.B.

Consulting Dads' club moderator Father Method, O.S.B., is Doctor Stephen Dzurik.

The Benedictine Dads' club seeks closer co-operation between school and home, supports activities beneficial to Benedictine and student body, and co-operates with the faculty to the fullest extent.

Founded in December 1945, the Dads' club has its general monthly meetings at 7:30 p.m. on the second Wednesday of each month in the school auditorium. Officers are elected at the December session and installed during the January convocation.

Sponsored by the Dads' club the evening of March 2, two donkey basketball games, pitting Benedictine students against alumni, and faculty versus dads, brought a capacity audience to the school gym to watch the quadruped events.

Benedictine's development fund soared over the $300,000 mark when the school's Dads' club contributed $5,000. Present at the check presentation were (left to right) moderator Father Mehod, O.S.B., club president Stephen Kandra, school president the Right Reverend Abbot Theodore G. Kojis, O.S.B., club member Norbert Tylicki and development program director Father Placid, O.S.B.

Parents - Boosters' club

To promote a better civic understanding of Benedictine and its activities through the Bengal athletic program is the purpose of the school's Parents-Boosters' club.

Monthly meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on the third Monday of each month in the school cafeteria. Elections are held in May and the new officers are installed at the June session. The group was organized December 16, 1958.

The Parents-Boosters' club donated $2,400 to Benedictine's development program. Accepting the check from Carl Felice in the presence of Joseph Labuda is school vice-president Father Prior Jerome, O.S.B.

1961-62 officers of the Benedictine Parents-Boosters' club are (left to right) moderator Father Augustine, O.S.B., recording secretary Mrs. Dorothy Crea, sergeant-at-arms Joseph Jason, president Aloysius Stefanek, vice-president Norman Kozak, treasurer Mrs. Emma Naso, corresponding secretary Mrs. Mary Felice and athletic director Joseph Rufus.

Helping the Benedictine faculty cage team's cause with a goal is (43) Father Florian, O.S.B. The Bengal instructors defeated WHK's radio disc jockeys, 59-55, January 9 in the school gym. The contest is sponsored annually by the Parents-Boosters' club.

Moderator Father Augustine, O.S.B., was instrumental in organizing the Benedictine Parents-Boosters' club in December 1958.

Benedictine's new school bus, a gift of the Parents-Boosters' club, was blessed September 20 by moderator Father Augustine, O.S.B.

Benedictine librarian Father Luke, O.S.B., is national chairman of the Catholic Library association's high school section, also chairman of CLA's northern Ohio unit.

Library staff

Benedictine's library is a laboratory for the implementation of the teaching program. Librarian Father Luke, O.S.B., has the library correctly organized and properly administered.

So that students can have the ability to use the library fully and benefit from library work, Father Luke provides special instruction in its proper use, that is, the use of the card catalog, indexes, dictionaries, encyclopedias and general reference works.

For Benedictine students, like senior Edward Laketek, the library is an extension of the classroom for the direction of certain learning processes.

Abbey players

For their first semester production the Benedictine Abbey players staged "Along Came Charlie" January 13 and 14 in the school auditorium. The three-act comedy was the initial play directed at Benedictine by the school's new drama club moderator, John Grillo.

Besides six actors, the cast included four actresses, all juniors, imported from Hoban-Dominican high school. The production's plot concerns an old prospector outfoxing city hoodlums who try to swindle a widow in Wyoming, attempting to steal her ranch and money.

Remodeling project curbs drama club

Director John Grillo's second semester production "Conscience," a two-act drama, was scheduled for May 11 and 12. However, the remodeling work on Benedictine's combination auditorium-gym had to begin May 7 so that the project would be completed by September, necessitating the play's cancellation.

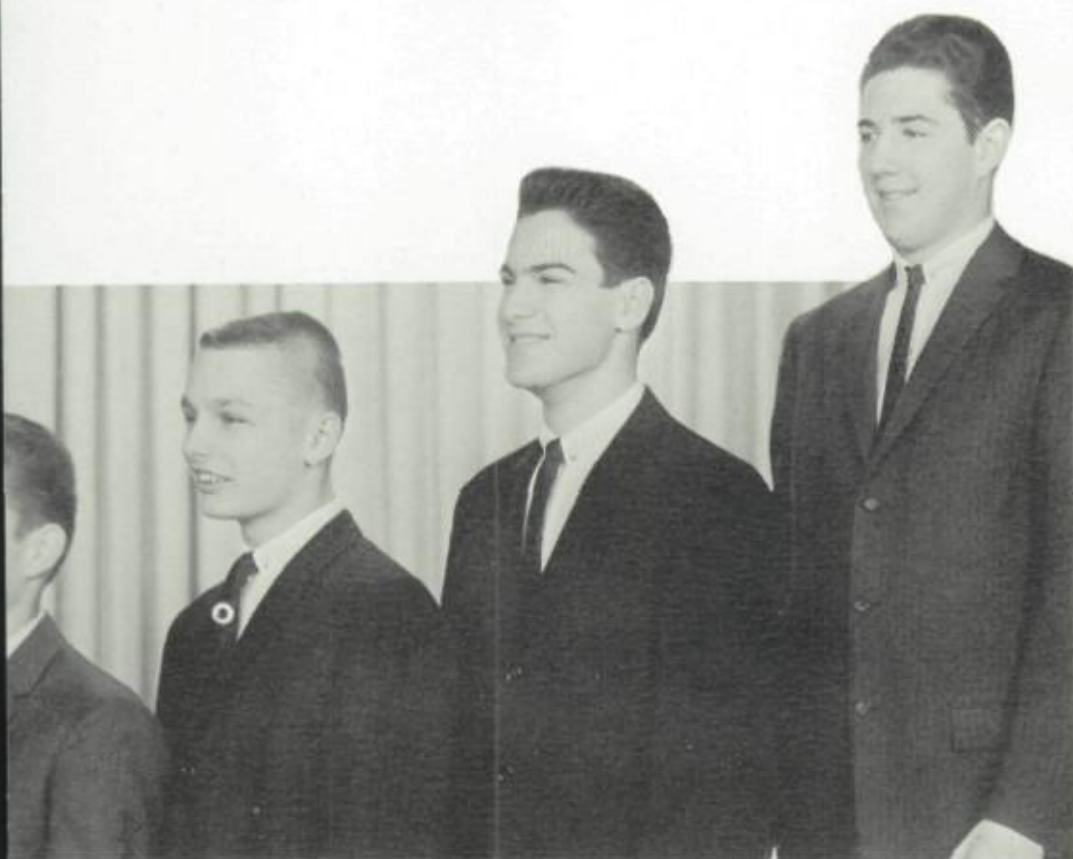

The remodeling consists of converting the school's present auditorium-gym into a 600-seating capacity cafeteria (see architect's sketch) and a new second floor over the cafeteria to function as a study hall-auditorium (see architect's sketch) capable of seating 1,000 students.

Mr. Benedictine and Best-dressed

During the scholastic year, Benedictine's newspaper the Bennet sponsored its tenth annual Mr. Benedictine contest and fifth annual best-dressed contest. The Mr. B competition determines the school's most popular and representative fourth-year man.

In the best-dressed contest, the faculty selects the best-dressed freshman, sophomore, junior and senior on a 4-3-2-1 vote basis.

Precision marching . . . artistic strains

The Benedictine band has its leadership in moderator Father Cyril, O.S.B., and director Raymond T. Zamiska. Father Cyril is fulfilling his third consecutive scholastic year as moderator, Mr. Zamiska, his second.

During the summer, the bandsmen have practice sessions Tuesdays and Thursdays. When school starts the band practices Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Featured on the band's first semester agenda is the halftime show at Benedictine varsity football games. Highlights of the second semester will be the band's twentieth annual spring concert May 4 in the school auditorium.

Among the bandsmen who will graduate in June is Neal Behm, Benedictine's head drum major in his junior and senior years.

On the gridiron during halftime of Bengal varsity football games, the Benedictine band puts on a seven-minute show, which features the Blue and White musicians marching up and down the field from a company front position at a cadence of 180 steps per minute.

the Benedictine band

"It's so wonderful," says Christmas ball queen Mary Blubaugh of Beaumont academy to senior class president Robert Shearer.

The social whirl

For both Benedictine senior and junior classes, the social calendar is spotlighted by each group's semiformal Christmas ball and formal spring prom.

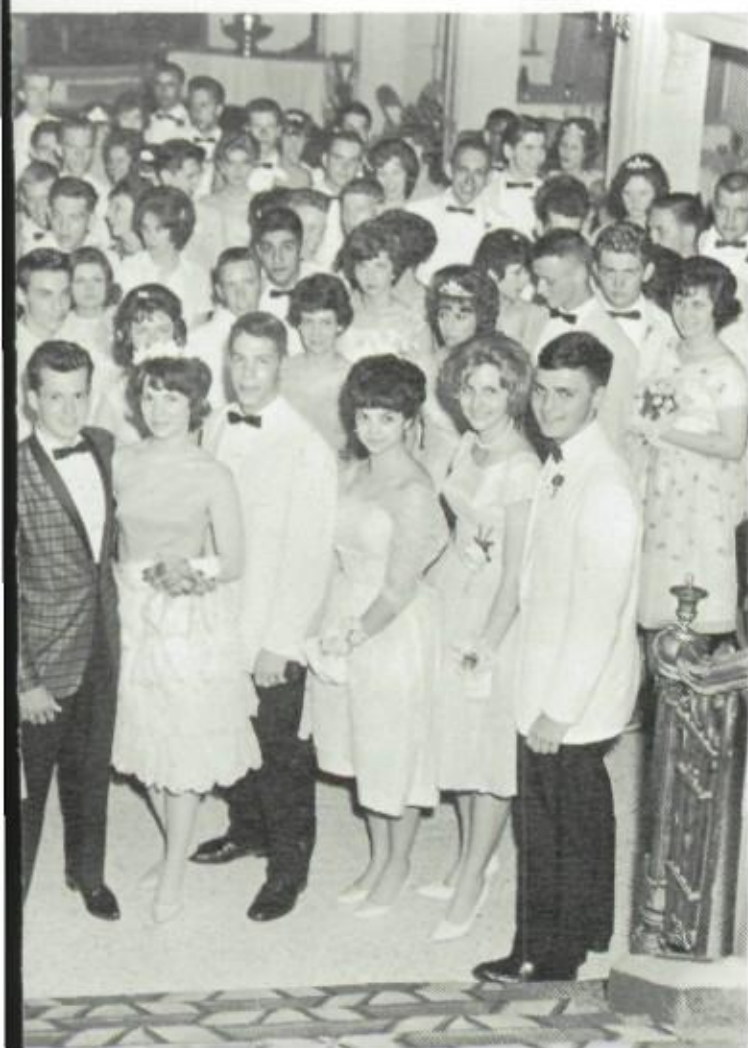

The seniors scheduled their yuletide and May events at the Somerset inn. Wade Park manor was the yule site for the juniors. In May the third year men had their prom at the Park Lane villa.

Both classes invite faculty members to act as chaperones.

At the May prom, King Shearer crowned Joan McCrackin of Shaker Heights high as the seniors' queen.

Nothing but the best for the men of Benedictine as evidenced in this something soft and sentimental atmosphere at the junior prom.

The juniors' royal twosome is class president Kenneth Skrabec and queen Donna Champa of Maple Heights high.

lasting memories

When King Shearer and Queen Joan smiled for the camera, the lens also took-in Jeffery Becker, Lawrence Hardon and Salvatore Forlani.

Benedictine's excellence in education forms the whole human being: spiritually, morally, intellectually, socially and physically . . .

In the pursuit of excellence . . .

BENEDICTINE HIGH SCHOOL EMPHASIZES HIGH INDIVIDUAL PERFORMANCE. IT AFFORDS STUDENTS THE DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY TO REALIZE THEIR FULL POTENTIALITIES. ALTHOUGH INSISTING UPON QUALITY AND DISTINCTION, BENEDICTINE SAFEGUARDS THE FUNDAMENTAL VIEW THAT IN THE FINAL MATTERS OF HUMAN EXISTENCE EACH STUDENT IS EQUALLY WORTHY OF THE SCHOOL'S CARE AND CONCERN.
